Department of Food Science and Technology, in collaboration with SEAFAST Fateta Center IPB, IPB LPPM on 29-30 May 2012 held a ‘Training Time Estimation and Control of Expiration (Shelf Life) Food Products’. Training is held in Building SEAFAST Center, Campus Darmaga IPB Bogor.

The training is held regularly every year and participants who attended training for the year 2012 is a force that the VII. Participants who attend this time as many as 30 people, mostly from the food industry followed by agencies and universities.

Teachers who deliver the training materials are from the Department of Food Science and Technology, IPB Fateta who are experienced in the analysis of Expiration Time Estimation and Control of Food Products.

There are 6 materials provided to participants associated with the shelf life of food products in the training which lasted for 2 days. The training was intended to increase participants' knowledge of the food industry practitioners, regulators and academics in the field of shelf life of food products.
Source